

NPH Joins Globally Minded Organizations Working Toward United Nations SDGs in 2020

Special designation as Civil Society Organization highlights NPH's ongoing work to eradicate poverty and promote health and gender equality

March 13, 2020 - Press Release - NPH International

NPH INTERNATIONAL

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOALS

NPHI named a United Nations Civil Society Organization

(Cuernavaca, Mexico, 13 March 2020)—NPHI has been designated by the United Nations (UN) Department of Global Communications as a Civil Society Organization for the 2020 term. This special recognition acknowledges NPHI's ongoing commitment to advance a number of critical Sustainable Development Goals \(SDGs\) promoted by the UN.

As a prominent member of the Mexico nonprofit community and a leader in child care focused on helping vulnerable children escape poverty, NPHI is honored to be counted among the many global entities whose work impacts the lives of families and communities to bring about lasting change.

In 2020 NPHI has committed to focus on four SGDs that align most closely with its mission and areas of strategic focus: goal 1 no poverty, goal 3 good health and well-being, goal 5 gender equality, and goal 6 clean water and sanitation. Promoting health and providing basic and advanced medical services in a primary care health system covering eight countries in Latin America, plus a pediatric hospital in Haiti, comprise a core competency for NPHI.

More than 3,000 children, adolescents, and young adults who benefit from the care and support provided in NPHI's residential care facilities, plus approximately 3,000 more who participate in family reintegration efforts and intensive community programs, are the focus of gender equality education across the organization.

"NPHI looks forward to furthering awareness of poverty, gender equality, and health issues through a comprehensive schedule of communications and outreach activities in 2020. We plan to cultivate youth advocates in each of our nine countries to promote positive change from within," says NPHI Executive Director Miguel Venegas.

Follow NPHI on Facebook and YouTube to see the work of its youth advocates and learn more about its Sustainable Development Goal activities in 2020.

About NPH International

Nuestros Pequeños Hermanos International \(NPHI\) is a child welfare nonprofit caring for disadvantaged, vulnerable, and disabled children and youth in Latin America and the Caribbean since 1954. Headquartered in Cuernavaca, Mexico, we provide services in Bolivia, Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Mexico, Nicaragua, and Peru. We work to effect transformational improvement in the lives of children, their families, and their communities. For more information about NPH and its work to strengthen families and communities in nine countries, visit www.nph.org.

About Department of Global Communications Civil Society Association

The Department of Global Communications of the United Nations works with diverse civil society organizations ranging from small groups to subsidiaries of large networks and academic institutions around the world. Organizations are required to meet certain minimum requirements before they are associated with the Department. Department of Global Communications associated organizations are expected to join the global effort to support the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and its 17 Sustainable Development Goals, promote and defend human rights, and promote peace and security. For more information, visit outreach.un.org/ngorelations.

Media contact Gia Riney, Director of Communications, NPHI
+1.312.477.9047 gia.riney@nph.org

Gia Riney
Director of Communications, NPHI